Ban On My Lai News, Pictures Ruled Out

WASHINGTON (AP) — The U.S. Court of Military Appeals has ruled out a ban on further news and pictures about the alleged massacre of South Vietnamese civilians at the village of My Lai.

Tuesday's unanimous decision emphasized that the colonel who will preside at the court-martial of 1st Lt. William L. Calley Jr. seems to have all the power he needs to screen out any prejudicial publicity.

Publishers Have Job
Publishers have the job of seeing that news stories are proper and accurate, the decision said, and military judges have the job of guarding courts-martial against outside influences.

The ruling seems to support the view that gags on the press have not been authorized by the Supreme Court and are probably unnecessary to assure a defendant a fair trial.

Moreover, the decision evi-

Mystery Moon Mounds Thought To Be Boulders

SPACE CENTER, Houston (AP) — Mysterious mounds which puzzled the Apollo 12 astronauts during their eight hours of walking the moon may be huge boulders thrown from nearby craters, a scientist says.

Dr. Edward Chao, who is quarantined with the Apollo 12 astronauts, said photographs of the mounds—rising like small buttes from the moon's surface—resemble similar structures found on earth.

"They are probably blocks of rock ejected out from some crater," the scientist said Tuesday after viewing photographs of the mounds taken last month by astronauts Charles Conrad Jr. and Alan L. Bean.

He said similar mounds have been found in Germany. Chao and six other scientists were isolated Monday after they were accidentally exposed to moon rock. The quarantine took them away from their work as geologists and geo-chemists.

Chao said he and the others were disappointed at first. But, he said, "we're getting some bonuses, like being able to talk to the astronauts and viewing film they took much earlier than we would have otherwise."

Poisonous Gas Problem Seen

WASHINGTON (AP) — The removal of American poisonous war gases from Okinawa may involve shipment of upwards of 10,000 tons of packaged materials in the United States, according to Pentagon sources.

The scope of the shipment was barely hinted at Tuesday in a Pentagon announcement that lethal chemical weapons in Okinawa would be relocated in this country beginning this month or in January.

The Pentagon said only that five shipments would be needed to complete the pullout ordered last July after 24 Americans on the island had a brush with death from a leaky nerve gas container.

Although the quantities were dently does not accept the popular notion that a clash between the public's right to know and the defendant's right to a fair trial is inevitable.

Injunction Sought
Maj. Kenneth A. Raby, Calley's military defense counsel, and Capt. Aubrey M. Daniel III, the prosecutor, had asked jointly that the court issue a pre-trial injunction against all American radio and television networks and stations, news services, newspapers and magazines.

They would have been ordered "to cease disseminating... any accounts, quotations, or

Is Parochial Wedge For Milliken's Bill?

LANSING (AP) — Parochial could be the lever Gov. William Milliken's Senate backers use to try and pry other parts of his education reform program from the Legislature to his desk.

Asks Postponement
Senate Majority Leader Emil Lockwood, R-St. Louis, moved Tuesday to postpone action on a motion to reconsider the 22-15

Dr. Riethmiller Given Vacated Education Post

LANSING (AP) — Gov. William Milliken has appointed Dr. Gorton Riethmiller, retiring president of Olivet College, to the State Board of Education.

He was named Tuesday to succeed the late Dr. Leroy Augenstein, Michigan State University professor, recently killed in a plane crash.

Riethmiller will serve for a term expiring Jan. 1, 1975. Riethmiller, who has been Olivet College president since 1957, is due to retire from the post next Feb. 1.

An aide in the State Department of Education said, based on previous opinions by the state attorney general, there would be no conflict of interest involved during the period Riethmiller is both a college president and a board member.

Not officially disclosed, Pentagon sources said the first shipment will weigh about 2,000 tons, including crating and protective packaging. The four subsequent shipments by next spring are expected to be roughly the same size, the sources said.

The Army cited military security reasons for not publicly stating how much gas was involved but it appeared likely officers were aware of the potential for a new controversy to arise over gas shipments.

Earlier this year the Army ran into strong criticism from some members of Congress over a plan to transport 27,000 tons of obsolete gases from Colorado east for dumping in the Atlantic Ocean off New Jersey.

State Airplane Registration Up

LANSING (AP) — Michigan's airplane registration is zooming, reports the State Commerce Department, up to 5,333 aircraft this year compared to 3,569 five years ago.

During the same period, the number of licensed pilots in the state increased from 7,700 to 11,330.

Bill Kept Alive
Nearly one-third of all aircraft registered in Michigan are located in Wayne, Oakland and Macomb counties. Wayne ranks first in aircraft registration with 851. Oakland is second with 684.

Ten other counties have 100 or more registered aircraft. They are Genesee, 320; Clinton, 244; Kent, 236; Macomb and Washtenaw, 196 each; Kalamazoo, 188; Monroe, 121; Jackson, 119; Berrien, 112, and Saginaw, 111.

Senators said "aye," however, and kept the bill and parochialism in legislative limbo. The reconsideration motion, offered by parochial foe Basil Brown, D-Highland Park, was to be taken up again today, but Lockwood indicated he might continue postponement motions.

He noted "an understanding" that Milliken has said he considers passage of the bill and tax measures to pay its price would be insufficient to constitute "education reform." The governor has hinted he might veto those measures if other reform proposals are not passed along with them.

Action May Be Stalled
Parochial proponents may be willing to hustle reform measures along if the nonpublic aid measure is their "carrot." Parochial opponents, on the other hand, may be just as willing to work on other reform ideas to stall final action on the measure.

Brown said party caucuses had decided on postponement because of the "grave importance" of the bill. He noted fiscal implications and a pending court suit he and two other parochial foes filed Tuesday.

Reds Release Yank Airmen From N. Korea

SEOUL (AP) — Three American helicopter crewmen, released today after 3½ months of captivity in North Korea, were reported in generally good condition after initial medical checkups. An Army spokesman said they are tentatively scheduled to leave for the United States Thursday morning—about 8 p.m. EST Wednesday.

Col. Paul Sheffer, commanding officer of the 121st Evacuation Hospital 10 miles west of Seoul, reported that the three men "are happy to be out" and said their psychological outlook is good.

He reported that all three had talked to their families.

Their first destination in the United States was not disclosed.

The release of the three fliers was preceded by a five-minute meeting at Panmunjom during which U.S. Marine Maj. Gen. Arthur H. Adams signed a statement admitting that the intrusion of the men's helicopter into North Korean air space last Aug. 17 was a "criminal act." A U.S. Army statement later repudiated the admission and said it was signed only to secure the release of the men.

The helicopter was shot down 15 miles inside North Korea and all three men were wounded.

Wearing navy blue jackets provided by their North Korean captors, two of the trio—Capt. David H. Crawford of Pooler, Ga., and WO Malcolm V. Loepke of Richmond, Ind.—appeared in good health when they were handed over at the truce village shortly before noon.

The third man, Spec. 4 Herman E. Hofstatter of Lowpoint, Ill., was on crutches, and an American official later said he still had open wounds in his right knee.

Group Asking $5,500 Income For U.S. Poor

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon's plea for support of his legislative proposals to fight poverty has drawn bitter criticism from many delegates to the White House conference on hunger.

Much of the fire came Tuesday from participants demanding a $5,500 yearly guaranteed minimum income for the poor and the shipment of emergency food supplies to underfed citizens.

There was outspoken disappointment over President Nixon's opening speech Tuesday to the 3,000 delegates to the three-day Conference on Food, Nutrition and Health.

Support Sought
Nixon appealed for support of his three welfare bills before Congress, which he said "should virtually eliminate the problem of poverty as a cause of malnutrition."

"That's not true," said Mrs. Peter Edelman, director of the Washington, D.C., Research Project, and a member of a conference panel considering minimum income.

Calls Speech 'Lousy'
She described the President's speech as "lousy," it said nothing new.

A caucus of Spanish-speaking delegates—called La Raza—issued a statement expressing "profound disappointment that the President" did not declare a national emergency on hunger, order immediate supplies of fresh food for the hungry and malnourished. The caucus also declared the President's family assistance program totally inadequate.

Some Support Noted
Nixon did get some qualified support from the Rev. Robert J. McEwen, chairman of the Task Force on Voluntary Action by Consumers. He expressed concern that "instant money" proponents would completely overshadow long range approaches to upgrade the nutrient quality of food.

McEwen, chairman of the department of economics at Boston College, said he thought Nixon's "total message was good" but expressed disappointment that "he didn't make a dramatic gesture now."

Higher Income Tax Exemption Backed

President May Veto Measure As Too Costly

WASHINGTON (AP) — In spite of presidential misgivings, considerable support has developed in the Senate for increasing the personal income tax exemption from $600 to $800.

The Senate had two plans before it today providing such a boost, one a Republican measure, the other Democratic. The administration didn't like either, but was particularly opposed to the Democratic proposal sponsored by Tennessee's Sen. Albro Gore.

Veto Hinted
In fact, President Nixon indicated he would veto the Gore plan, which would raise the exemption to $700 next year and to $800 in 1971.

Sen. Charles H. Percy of Illinois drew up the Republican plan to boost the exemption to $650 next year with $50 increases each following year up to $800 in 1973. Percy also proposed future tax rate cuts which would run the eventual cost of his plan higher than Gore's.

Political Bickering
Senate leaders had hoped to settle the question of the form of tax cuts in the big tax reform package Tuesday, but an afternoon of parliamentary maneuvering and political bickering yielded only an agreement to vote on the various proposals today.

Both sides were seeking the credit for a politically popular move—an increase in the $800 personal exemption for the first time in 21 years.

During the afternoon Tuesday, President Nixon sent a letter to Senate GOP Leader Hugh Scott clearly implying he would veto the Gore amendment, which originally called for a $1,000 exemption.

Too Quick Relief
The President said he opposed them in large part because they granted relief too quickly.

It was for this reason that Percy drafted his proposal in a form that will grant delayed relief with only a minimum impact in the next two years.

Nixon urged the Senate to go along with the $9 billion of tax relief in the bill as it came from the Senate Finance Committee. This was based primarily on cutting individual tax rates.

Gore dropped his $1,000 figure Tuesday afternoon in favor of the $800 figure after he said he had become convinced a clear majority of the Senate, including practically all Democrats, favored $800.

Committee Shelves War Impact Inquiry

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Foreign Relations Committee has quietly shelved Sen. J. W. Fulbright's bid for an inquiry into the impact of the Vietnam war on the mood and morality of America.

Fulbright, the Arkansas Democrat who heads the committee, said his idea was motivated by the alleged massacre of South Vietnamese civilians by U.S. soldiers.

Stayings Not Topic
Fulbright said he did not propose an inquiry into the alleged slayings at My Lai itself.

Instead, he said he wanted a hearing soon on the significance of the incident: "What is happening to us as a result of the war?"

A committee majority indicated opposition to such hearings now, Fulbright said they may be proposed again after Congress reconvenes in January.

Sen. George D. Aiken, the senior Republican member, said the proposal was an effort to see what ails the world. "I told him we ought to call some Washington taxicab drivers in and they could tell us what was wrong with the world," Aiken said. "He didn't laugh."

National Disgrace
Sen. Daniel K. Inouye, D-Hawaii, called the My Lai incident a national disgrace, and said if there is a way out "it is to be found only through the prompt, complete and public investigation of what has occurred, the proper punishment of those responsible, and through every effort to determine why My Lai happened."

Training Criticized
He also criticized U.S. military training, which he said permits references to the Vietnamese as "gooks, dinks, or slopes."

"I think you can have war without shooting down women and children," said Sen. Ralph Yarborough, D-Tex. "These are war crimes and are against civilized law."

But Aiken said "I expect this kind of thing happens in every war."

While senators debated among themselves, protests over the alleged massacre were mounted in the Soviet Union and East Germany.

House Supports Nixon's Policy
WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon, who claimed one month ago today that the "silent majority" of Americans support his efforts to end the Vietnam war, has a 333-55 voting majority backing him in the House of Representatives.

The 6-1 margin came Tuesday on a resolution supporting the administration's "efforts to negotiate a just peace in Vietnam." Some of those voting for the resolution did so with reservations, however.

A last-minute addition to the resolution requests Nixon "to continue to press" North Vietnam to abide by a Geneva convention providing for the humane treatment of prisoners of war. The POW vote was 392-0.

But before the two days of wide-ranging debate was over, House leaders on both sides of the aisle came under fire for bringing the resolution to the floor under procedures banning amendments.

The POW proposal previously had been beaten by the House Foreign Affairs Committee. It was brought up through a procedural device just prior to final passage of the resolution.

Fifty-four Democrats voted against the resolution. They were joined by Republican Rep. Ogden Reid of New York. Supporting it were 161 Democrats and 172 Republicans.

Romney Eyes 'Revolution' If Reforms Nixed

SAN DIEGO (AP) — Secretary George Romney of the Department of Housing and Urban Development said Tuesday the United States faces certain revolution unless it achieves basic policy reforms.

"It's later than we think in my opinion," the former Michigan governor told the opening session of the National League of Cities annual convention.

"I think we are drifting toward the precipice... I think we face the necessity of basic policy reform or the certainty of revolution."

At a news conference afterward, Romney said basic conflicts in U.S. society follow economic and social as well as racial lines but he did not elaborate on the theme of revolution.

However, he stressed in his speech the importance of the administration's "New Federalism" policy, a restructuring of the relations between the various layers of government.

"The New Federalism may be the last chance for state and local governments in America. If they strangle one another in shortsighted jealousy and petty conflict, the pendulum, in my opinion, will swing toward irreversible central authority and domination," he said.

Romney also called for a modernization of economic policy, particularly to meet the nation's pressing need for housing.

Romney's talk ranged far from his prepared text, which he personally had cleared for release. In it, the secretary said it would be an exercise in expensive futility to build huge mass transit systems without a change in population patterns.

"It is absurd for people who live in the suburbs to spend literally hours each day trying to get to jobs in the central city while people in the central city spend just as long trying to get to jobs in the suburbs," he said.

Romney said he believed that every American has the right to a home within a reasonable distance of his work.

"I believe that people more and more will exercise that right," he said.

Romney is the highest-ranking administration official to appear at the annual gathering of mayors and other city officials.

Group Planning Christmas Card Barrage To GIs

BIRMINGHAM (AP) — A citizens committee known as Friends of the Boys in Vietnam is distributing hundreds of Christmas cards to be sent to servicemen in Vietnam through Gen. Creighton W. Abrams, U.S. commander there.

The large cards read: "To all our Boys in Vietnam. Merry Christmas. Happy New Year & May God be with you. We're with you all the way."

Across the front Americans are shown standing up on a map of the United States in support of servicemen.

"Half a million American boys are serving in Vietnam today," says Paul E. Kasper, committee chairman. "They have been subjected to the constant criticism of certain other Americans. Isn't it fitting we let them know how much we appreciate what they are doing?"

Kasper added, however, "this effort in no way is to be interpreted as affirming or disaffirming our country's present policy on Vietnam. This is a bipartisan united expression... to give the boys a boost at a time when I think they need it."

Vandals Turn On Hydrants In Soo; Drain Reservoirs

SAULT STE. MARIE (AP) — Vandals caused what authorities termed "an extremely dangerous" situation Monday night, turning on 12 fire hydrants and virtually draining two reservoirs before the prank was discovered.

The standpipe reservoirs provide pressure needed for firefighting. They were built and filled only last summer.

Board Working On Own Air Ordinance

By BOB GREGG
The Delta County Board of Supervisors in a meeting held last night at the Wells Township Hall said that it was considering its own air ordinance in place of the one presented to the Board by the Delta County Citizens Committee to Save Our Air (SOA).

In an unscheduled discussion on air pollution problems, the members of the Board unanimously expressed the opinion that they didn't want to stifle industry with an ordinance it couldn't live with.

"We are interested in jobs. We don't want to close any industry down," said Board chairman Frank Stupak.

Board member H. George Nelson said he thought the state could control any pollution problems in the Delta County area. It was brought to his attention, however, that the state has never closed down a polluting industry since the state anti-pollution law went into effect in 1965.

The Board said that it recognized that the SOA Committee investigated the legality of the proposed ordinance thoroughly before presenting it to the Board, but that it believed certain parts of the SOA ordinance could not be enforced. The section dealing with "smell" was questioned by chairman Stupak.

Although they would not admit it openly, the board is obviously considering the adoption of its own ordinance without having disposed of the proposed ordinance before them.

"Mr. Beauchamp is going to steer us to an ordinance," said Stupak. He was referring to Delta County Prosecutor John Beauchamp who has been working with the Board during recent weeks on the consideration of a local air ordinance.

Although he didn't say how, Stupak said that new industry is going to have to conform to any local regulations that might be adopted. "They will also have to clean up their own pollution problems," he said.

Harold Vanlerberghe, board member from Escanaba, said the Board wasn't trying to sweep anything under the rug. "We intend to come up with an ordinance people can live with," he said.

In other business, the Board approved the Community Action Agency's appointment of

H. George Nelson as a representative to the agency.

A scheduled appointment of lay members to the Delta County Planning Commission was postponed until the next meeting which will be held Dec. 16.

Threat Of Rail Strike Slackens

WASHINGTON (AP) — The threat of a nationwide railroad shutdown was eased today after union and industry negotiators were reported near a wage settlement and had agreed to continue bargaining.

"We are very close to a settlement, I believe," said Assistant Secretary of Labor W. J. Usery after 38 hours of nearly continuous bargaining in the dispute involving 48,000 shopcraft workers on all major U.S. railroads.

The talks were recessed at 2:30 a.m. until midafternoon to give the negotiators a rest.

The four AFL-CIO unions in the dispute, who were free to strike at 12:01 a.m. today, said they would not call a walkout as long as progress is being made.

The four unions—Machinists, Electricians, Sheet Metal Workers and Boilermakers—originally demanded a one-year wage increase of 10 per cent above the current $3.59 per hour, 20 cents an hour additional for extra skilled workers and a cost of living escalator clause.

The railroads had offered a 2 per cent increase retroactive to last Jan. 1 and 3 per cent retroactive to July 1.

The talks, dragged out for nearly a full year under delaying procedures of the Railway Labor Act including a 60-day strike ban invoked by President Nixon, covered 1969 wages. However, Usery said the negotiators were trying to expand any agreement to two years.

Nixon Asking Commitment To End Hunger

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon has called for a massive national commitment to end hunger and malnutrition and said, "The plain fact is that a great many Americans are not eating well enough to sustain health."

In an address prepared for a White House Conference on Food, Nutrition and Health, Nixon urged support for three measures pending in Congress which, he said, "should virtually eliminate the problem of poverty as a cause of malnutrition."

One measure would put a floor under the income of every American family, supplementing or providing incomes for 25 million persons.

Nixon said the meeting of experts in the field marks an historic milestone and added: "It sets the seal of urgency on our national commitment to put an end to hunger and malnutrition due to poverty in America."

The President, who got a view of the angry mood of many of the persons invited to the conference even before his scheduled keynote address, said the central question until now has been whether the nation would accept the problems of malnutrition as a national responsibility.

"That moment has passed," Nixon said. "...Speaking for this administration, I not only accept the responsibility—I claim the responsibility."

He said while action is required by our national conscience, practical terms compel action.

Appearance has been scheduled for 10:30 a.m. Friday in District Court on the driving under the influence charge.

Strike Ends At Rust Corp.

A one-day walkout by Local 506 of the Plumbers and Pipefitters Union of Escanaba ended this morning with the workers agreeing to return to their jobs Thursday.

The pipefitters employed by Rust Engineering Corp. had walked off their jobs at 10:30 a.m. Tuesday in a dispute over work assignments at the site of the American Cyanamid plant on Escanaba Paper Co. property.

According to Rust officials, the one-day work stoppage by the sixteen member union had little effect on the construction work remaining at the Escanaba Paper Co.

The American Cyanamid plant is being built to help supply the Escanaba Paper Co. with materials for its new Publishing Papers center.

Vocation Van Latest Project

GREEN BAY — A three state committee which advises the Upper Great Lakes Regional Commission on television aids to vocational education in northern Michigan, Wisconsin and Minnesota took on a new duty at its meeting here Tuesday at the WLUC-TV Building.

Concerned so far only with NEWIST (Northeastern Wisconsin In School Television) vocational guidance projection into a three-state service, the committee will now also advise on a new Upper Great Lakes Regional Commission project in mobile vocational guidance which will start in the three states next year.

It is the Mobile Vocational Career Guidance in which vans specially equipped with video tape projects will demonstrate to students and to adults in selected rural areas what is available in job choices and job training.

Each van will have a full time counselor on guidance to supplement the tape presentations and to answer questions.

The Upper Great Lakes Commission has funded the program for a year beginning on July 1.

The three Northern Michigan areas will get guidance vans assigned to them to tour their areas are: Ontonagon and Gogebic counties in the western Upper Peninsula, the Chippewa, Mackinac, Luce county area in the eastern Upper Peninsula and a northern Lower Peninsula area about Potosky.

The vans will test the usefulness of a mobile approach to the problem of relieving unemployment by bringing job counseling and training information to rural areas.

Wisconsin plans to start at the high school level of aid, while Minnesota plans a multiple approach through schools and agencies serving adult populations.

Oahu's Shoreline Target Of Waves; 2 Persons Lost

HONOLULU (AP) — A swollen surf continued to batter Oahu's devastated north shore today where 81 homes were destroyed or damaged by 50-foot breakers. Officials called it Hawaii's worst natural disaster since a 1960 tidal wave.

Authorities reported at least two storm-related deaths, including that of a man swept out to sea by a monster wave. They said at least 15 persons had been injured, three seriously.

Dangerous surf warnings remained in an effect while hundreds of homeless carried belongings from wrecked houses amid a tangle of seaweed and coral.

Towering waves spawned by a Pacific storm 1,500 miles northwest of Hawaii crashed onto a 15-mile stretch of beach late Monday night, shoving homes from their foundations and rolling cars about like toys.

City engineers said the private property toll would exceed $750,000. A survey late Tuesday found 25 homes demolished and 56 heavily damaged. Thirty automobiles and 10 boats also were lost.

Ross Elected President Of Health Group

LANSING (AP) — Local health departments from throughout Michigan have organized a new group to make a stronger bid for more state and federal support.

They also plan to work for better coordination between boards in approaching and understanding common health problems.

The new organization was named the Michigan Association of Boards of Health by representatives of 34 of 50 local boards meeting Tuesday at Lansing.

R. Myron Ross of Menominee, Delta-Menominee health department chairman, was elected association president at the conclusion of the two-day meeting.

Ross said the association is vitally interested in proposed legislation that would increase financial support to the boards from 20 to 35 cents per person in the county according to the last federal census.

The minimum local boards could receive would be raised from $8,500 to $15,000 under the measure introduced in the Senate. State financial support for the counties also would not be less than one-third of local spending for health purposes.

Ross said the tax base isn't growing enough in many counties to keep pace with inflation.

Christmas Mail Schedule Given

"Don't take a chance on disappointing someone you love, send your gift parcels and cards early enough to insure their delivery before Christmas, not after," Escanaba Postmaster James E. Pryal said today.

Such disappointments can be avoided if Christmas mailers will observe the following mailing schedule.

Gift parcels going to distant states should be mailed by Dec. 1. Parcels going to local and nearby areas should be mailed not later than Dec. 13.

The name and address of both the sender and addressee should be enclosed in each gift parcel to permit identity in case of damage or loss of the outside address label. The outside label should be placed on only one side of each parcel.

Greeting cards going to distant states should be mailed not later than Dec. 10. Cards going to local and nearby areas should be in the mail by Dec. 15.

Postmaster Pryal also emphasized the importance of using ZIP Codes and adding a return address to all Christmas mail. It only takes a couple extra seconds, but pays big dividends.

ZIP Codes enable postal employees to sort and handle the mail faster. A return address insures that mail that can't be delivered because of an illegible or incomplete mailing address will be returned to the sender.

A return address is important. Last year over 32 billion pieces of mail went to postal dead letter branches because the mailing address couldn't be read and there was no return address on the envelope.

Rural And Urban

The top federal representative on the Upper Great Lakes Commission, France was appointed to the post by President Nixon in April this year and the appointment was confirmed by the Senate on June 24. The Commission is one of five established under the Public Works and Economic Development Act and its objective is to increase jobs and income in 119 counties in Minnesota, Wisconsin and Upper Michigan.

"More and more congressmen are becoming increasingly aware that the problems of the cities are related to those of the rural regions, and that movement of people from under-developed areas to the cities is a part of the urban problem," France said.

The aim of the Commission and the Department of Commerce is to promote the concept of regionalism — the "new federalism" — as a method of coping with the problems of governing a growing society, France said.

"If our free society is to survive, then it must be adaptable, and regionalism may be the means by which government can be brought more closely to those it serves — by giving the people an opportunity to determine how they want to meet their problems," France emphasized.

Model Program

The Upper Peninsula Committee on Economic Progress was complimented by France for its accomplishments over the past eight years, and he said that a "model" organization for coordination of effort is being developed in the Central Upper Peninsula.

This agency, the Central Upper Peninsula Economic Development District, with George Rusch of Escanaba as its director, is establishing "a cooperative model for the Upper Great Lakes Region," said France. "We sincerely hope it will succeed," he said.

France served four terms as a member of the Minnesota legislature before his appointment as federal co-chairman of the Commission. He noted that the trend is toward decentralization of federal programs with regional and state cooperation and responsibility increasing.

states with a voice in federal programming, and there is an effort toward "block grants" to the states — but the thinking in Washington is for continuing control of federal funds.

Tour Of Industry
Gov. William Milliken of Michigan, who with the Governors of Wisconsin and Minnesota are members of the Upper Great Lakes Regional Commission, sent a telegram to the UPCAP meeting expressing regret at not being able to attend — with "assurance of my deep interest" in its meeting.

The delegates of the Upper Peninsula Committee for Area Progress and representatives of municipal, county, state and federal agencies were in Escanaba for the meeting conducted by Harold Dettman, St. Ignace, UPCAP chairman.

The group toured two expanding industries at Escanaba —

Boost Exemption

When he was representing the western Upper Peninsula in Congress in the 1950s, the late John B. Bennett, Ontonagon Republican, sought repeatedly but unsuccessfully to have the personal income tax exemption raised a modest couple of hundred dollars from the $600 figure that applied then — and still applies despite the great erosion of the dollar that inflation has caused in the many intervening years.

Now the question of increasing the personal tax exemption is before Congress once again as the Senate debates the tax reform that has been demanded by so many taxpayers.

The House already has acted on the tax reform package. The Senate last week voted to continue the income surtax at a five per cent rate for the first six months of 1970. The alternatives were to extend the 10 per cent rate that President Lyndon Johnson obtained to finance the Vietnam war or to allow the 10 per cent surtax to expire completely as scheduled on Dec. 31.

The Senate also defeated an amendment to the tax bill to double the personal income tax exemption to $1,200, but this was regarded as a nuisance maneuver that was sponsored by those who actually oppose increasing the exemption.

The really serious exemption proposal is the one introduced by Sen. Albert Gore, Tennessee Democrat who has fought continuously for an increase in the personal exemption for the past 10 years. His amendment, which is supported by Senate Majority Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana, would raise the exemption from $600 to $1,000. Further support came from 173 House members who signed a letter to Sen. Gore backing his proposal.

The proposal is being offered as a substitute to most of the $9 billion in tax cuts provided in the tax reform bill passed by the House. This bill calls for a one percentage point reduction in taxes in the bottom income bracket and up to an eight percentage reduction in the high brackets.

The administration opposes the Gore amendment. Chief argument against it is that it would cost too much. More than 13 million taxpayers would be removed from the tax rolls under this proposal.

Sen. Russell B. Long, Louisiana Democrat who is chairman of the Senate Finance Committee, estimates that an increase in the personal exemption to just $900 per person would increase the eventual cost of tax reform to more than $12 billion a year. But Sen. Gore disagrees. He says his calculations show the revenue loss would be less than $4 billion over the next two years.

One Michigan Republican who supports Sen. Gore's efforts is Congressman Donald W. Riegle Jr. of Flint. An outspoken critic of the existing tax structure, Riegle had recommended that the $600 figure for each taxpayer and each of his dependents be increased to $1,000 in his own tax reform bill submitted earlier this year. House rules did not permit any amendments during floor debate on the tax reform bill, and Riegle's proposal was shunted aside.

"When I ask my constituents what they think the greatest inequity is in our present tax laws, they are unanimous in pointing to the out-of-date $600 personal income tax exemption," Riegle said.

It is hard to believe that any congressman's constituents would be unanimous on any issue, but it is easy to believe that the majority of them are in favor of increasing the personal exemption, just as Rep. Bennett was convinced that the majority of his constituents supported this proposal for tax reform more than a decade ago.

And if that's the case, then the Democratic process in Congress should recognize it.

Dr. William Bocks, superintendent of the Menominee public school district for two and one-half years, submitted his resignation to the board of education, to be effective at the close of the 1969-70 academic year. He indicated he would search for an educational administrative post in an urban area or at a university.

A 5½-month-old boy died when the car his mother was driving ran out of control on U. S. 2 near Crystal Falls and rolled over. Killed was Erwin Rowell, who was riding with his mother, Lynette, 26, of Crystal Falls.

Menominee school officials are investigating the burning of an American flag in Walton Blesch field. The flag measures about 18 inches by two feet and, as far as school officials know, was not school property.

Representatives from the city commissions of Iron River, Stambaugh, Caspian and Gaastra accepted the low bid of $8,000 by General Engineering for a preliminary engineering survey which will give the four west Iron County communities several options in determining a solution to the problem of treating sewage in that area.

Kennecott Exploration, Inc., Salt Lake City, has awarded a $1,000 grant to Michigan Technological University for expenses of equipment involved in geophysical research or training applicable to mineral exploration. This is the second year the university has received such a grant.

Paul N. Olson, 19, Kingsford, has been charged with armed robbery in connection with the attack on a service station attendant and theft of cash and cigarettes from the station in Iron Mountain. The attendant, Frank Allred, 23, was struck twice on the head with a long metal rod and knocked unconscious. The robber drove away in a green pickup truck. Olson was arrested later in the day.

Take Our Children Out Of 'Higher' Education

By JOHN CHAMBERLAIN

Johnny, age 11, asked me the meaning of the word "immersion." I tried to explain it by telling him of the type of baptism that insists on dipping a person totally under. Johnny said he understood; it was like submersion. "Yes," I said, "it's the same root, with a different prefix." "I guess I should study the origin of words," said Johnny.

What Johnny does not know is that he has made the case for taking Latin and Greek in high school and college. He probably won't get either, and I'm not so sure he needs them. (Other languages will take their place.)

But if he is going to be a writer (Heaven help him) he needs something more than most of our boys and girls have been getting out of our schools ever since Dick and Jane, those morose moppets, took over our primer education with their "controlled" vocabularies.

No parents really know what their children are getting when they go to school. It took us some time to realize that Chris, who had a way with elders, was beguiling his teachers into giving him good marks without really being forced to stretch his mind. Ben needed phonics, but this didn't come clear at once.

With Johnny, I am more aware of what he is getting. But, of necessity, it is a problem of following his progress at one remove, listening to his questions and observing what he does to make his homework expressive.

This year he has a teacher who is obviously no pal of Dick and Jane. She understands that words have savor as well as meaning. In an age in which speed reading is encouraged she seems to be an advocate of slowing things down, letting alliteration work its magic.

You can, of course, take in a Kipling sentence about the "great, green, greasy Limpopo River" at a glance. "Look-say" would have it that way. But to get the full delight of it you have to let it emerge from the back of your mouth in a series of truncated growls. Johnny has been trying to imitate the Kipling touch in parodies that, to tell the truth, aren't particularly notable. But it doesn't matter that, at the age of eleven, he isn't Kipling; what does matter is that he is coming to see that writing must have musicality as well as meaning, poetry as well as portent.

His teacher has saved him from the awful fate of becoming a Marshall McLuhan modern, ready to dissolve into the television set.

The larger problem looms: how is Johnny to be saved from what passes for higher education in this country? On every side we are hearing that our present college students are "the smartest and brightest we have ever had." And the further to the Left they go, the brighter they are supposed to be.

I have been reading my friend James Burnham's account of a visit he made to Berkeley, Calif., where "a brilliant young instructor" told him that the campus New Left leaders "are drawn from the best and brightest." The instructor had analyzed the boys' records: 80 per cent of the "A" students were "one way or another New Left."

But who has been giving those "A's" to the 80 per cent? Doesn't the "brilliant young instructor" give the show away when he describes the "administration here and the senior professors" as a gang that is "spiritually and morally dead?" What is an "A" worth if it comes from a "spiritually and morally dead" faculty?

Something is wrong with our major premise about the New Left being bright. The New Left at Berkeley burned a building at a cost to the State of $2 million. Query: does a pyromaniac deserve an "A" in ethics? Or in economics? Or in logic? Why is it "bright" to think that taxpayers will continue to subsidize students who burn the buildings that the taxpayers provide for them?

Richard Nixon has been upbraided for cutting himself off from the "leaders of the future" by his decision to ignore "the kids." But not all the "kids" are New Left, and if one would learn where the "leaders of the future" are to be recruited he could do no better than to read Ralph de Toledano's biography of Nixon himself, "One Man Alone."

Nixon went to a small college, Whittier, and a southern law school, Duke, both of them far away from the fashionable university world of the Thirties.

Letters To The Press

UNITY ESSENTIAL

It seems like only yesterday that, our Board of Education and interested citizens set out to prove to the public that we could afford a new consolidated school.

We had to prove to the State Board of Education and to the Big Bay de Noc area voters that we were not a low economic and underprivileged area. We had to prove to them that our tax base and amount behind each student was high enough to support consolidation.

I also remember on the day of the consolidation election the many radical people who hollered and screamed that consolidation would never pass. I will admit that they did make things look mighty bleak. But fortunately, the silent people were obviously the "yes" votes and the election passed by a 2 to 1 margin.

I have lived in this area all my life and it hurts my pride when some people of this area continue to call our area a low economic and underprivileged area, especially after we have just convinced some important people that we are not. We can afford a new school and we can afford to pay our teachers a wage which is the average in the U.P.

I cannot see where a few comments by a few people and a politician can have any bearing on solving our problem. I firmly believe that the average person feels that we can afford an average teacher wage and that we should try to obtain a staff where we have 100 per cent degree teachers who are teaching in their college major or minor subject. We would then be ready to step into an accredited school when the new building is finished.

Our board did not listen to the people who were hollering

"The leaders of the future" will come from the Whittiers and the Dukes, not from the Berkeleys.

No matter how you twist the meanings of the words "smart" and "brilliant," you can't make it seem intelligent to man-handle deans, or to burn buildings, or to substitute force majeure (down with ROTC) for free choice.

For my money, the New Left on the campus is the stupidest manifestation of a disheveled age. It is bound to pass, for it rests on fashion, not on truth.

Opening lead — queen of clubs.

The trouble with watching a really top-notch player in action is that the operation generally goes so smoothly that you are not apt to realize how skillful his play has been.

I was reminded of this on one occasion when a kibitzer who had been watching a well-known expert decided to abandon him after he had made three trump on today's hand. The lady in question didn't see anything about this play to justify his reputation.

Actually, there was nothing remarkable about South's performance. He simply did a good, workmanlike job to get his nine tricks. When play began he had seven tricks, and all he had to do was find two more.

Declarer won the club lead in dummy and led a low diamond to the jack. West won with the queen, returned the jack of clubs which South ducked, and led another club.

South won, played the king and another heart to the jack, losing the finesse to the queen, and won East's spade return with the ace.

A heart to dummy's ace was followed by the nine of diamonds, which held the trick, and another diamond to the ten. Then the little old lady got up and walked away.

What did declarer do that was so good? Nothing startling, as we said before. He won the club lead in the proper hand and correctly tackled diamonds instead of hearts. By doing so, he had both suits working for him, instead of just one.

South did one more good thing. He avoided a trap that the little old lady who walked away might very well have fallen into. He led a low diamond at trick two and played the jack. He did not make the mistake of leading the nine and letting it run. If he had, he would have gone down.

Not only that, but, if he had, the little old lady who walked away would have had good cause to.

Telephone Operators Ask Understanding

Dear Ann Landers: You've helped a lot of people but you've never said a word about the most abused, pushed-around folks of all — those of us who work for the telephone answering services.

How in the name of heaven can we get the public to understand that we are trying to help them? One operator is expected to handle between 65 and 85 lines. Can you imagine how difficult it is to be pleasant when someone yells, "Who the hell are YOU? I'm calling long distance. Get off the line!"

It's hard to be civil when we inform a caller that Mrs. So-and-So is not in and she replies, "You are lying. I know she's there. Put her on."

The most exasperating of all callers is the one who asks, "Is this a recording?" I always reply, "I beg your pardon, will you please repeat that question..." Then the dumbbell turns around repeats the question! Has anyone ever heard of a telephone recording responding to a question with another question?

I could go on and on but I'm sure you get the idea. Be an angel and print this. Those of use who labor in the telephone vineyards will be eternally grateful. — Unseen Friend.

Dear Friend: As one who labors in the typographical vineyards, I sympathize. Here's your letter and I hope it helps.

Dear Ann Landers: Several months ago I was out of work, sour on the world, and drinking heavily. I was sitting in a motel room with another boozier and we decided to get even with the people who had done us in. We wrote several letters to former employers, neighbors and relatives. Of course, the more we drank, the nastier the letters became. The stuff was mostly lies and vicious ones at that. Unfortunately, we mailed the letters that very night.

Word has gotten back that the letters (which were unsigned) have caused a great deal of trouble. Now that I'm on the wagon I deeply regret the unhappiness I've caused. What should I do, if anything, to set things right? My wife says I should keep quiet or I'll get myself into a real jackpot. I find that I think about these people more and more. Help me, please — Conscience Stricken.

Dear Con: I suggest that you write to the people and confess that the letters were written during a drunken spree, that they were filled with lies and you are truly sorry. If you haven't the courage to sign your name, send the letters anonymously. If you can somehow find the courage to sign, I urge you to do so. It will help you regain some self-respect.

Dear Ann Landers: I was delighted to read the letter from the woman who hates cats. I salute her because she had the guts to knock an American institution.

If you think I'm a cat hater, you're wrong. I actually like cats. It's children I hate. It kills me the way parents allow their kids to pester people for hours on end. Our child-dominated society is a hideous thing to observe. Children seem to be everywhere — in stores, movies, restaurants, beauty shops, at dinner tables and in cars, distracting the drivers. According to your column, people bring them to weddings, too. I know my position is unpopular, but there are actually more of us around than you imagine. — Los Angeles Bub.

Dear Reader: Jeepers! W. C. Fields is alive and well and living in Los Angeles. Thanks for fixing your position. I'll keep my grandchildren away from you, Bub!

Ann Landers' book, "Truth Is Stranger," a collection of her best columns over the past 14 years is available at book stores. It can also be obtained by writing Prentice Hall, Englewood Cliffs, New Jersey. Price, $4.95.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper, enclosing a self-addressed, stamped envelope.

People, Events Of Yesteryears

25 Years Ago

A large number of ski enthusiasts have indicated they will visit the Gladstone ski park today and in order to accommodate them the ski house will be opened and heated and one of the tows placed in operation for the convenience of the skiers.

Lt. and Mrs. A. E. Jacob left for Los Angeles, following a leave spent at the home of Mrs. Jacob's mother, Mrs. L. H. Reynolds, 501 1st Ave. S., and with Lt. Jacob's mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Jacob of Ishpeming.

50 Years Ago

When the census enumerators begin their canvass of the homes of Escanaba in January, they expect to be far from welcome visitors. With the census this year consisting of asking many more questions than in past enumerations, the outlook for the future secrecy of family histories is not the most pleasant. There are more questions regarding women than in past years and there is little doubt that many women will argue long before they answer.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Crebo have returned from a wedding trip to Chicago and Milwaukee.

Nino Green Demo Convention Speaker

Attorney Nino Green of Escanaba will review and report on recommendations of the Political Reform Commission when Schoolcraft County Democrats gather for their county convention Thursday night at the Three Mile Supper Club. Green is 11th District treasurer of the party and is associated with the law firm of Green, Jason, Casselman and Jason in Escanaba.

Nino Green

During Thursday night's convention, delegates to the Dec. 13 Iron Mountain District Convention will be chosen as will delegates to the State Convention in Detroit on Jan. 17 and 18. The recommendations of the Reform Commission will be under consideration by the state convention delegates in January.

William Haber, former Dean of the School of Business, University of Michigan, was chairman of Michigan's Reform Commission with Sen. Sander M. Levin as associate chairman.

Thursday night's activities will get underway with a social hour from 6:30 to 7:30 followed by a 7:30 potluck supper with the Women's Democratic Organization in charge. The general public is invited to attend. Tickets are on sale at $1.50 per person.

Wants Utility Tax For State Training Plan

LANSING (AP)—A statewide occupational training program—paid for by a 1 per cent tax on utilities—has been proposed by a Democratic state senator.

Sen. James Gray of Warren, chairman of a special subcommittee which spent much of the summer studying vocational education, introduced two bills implementing his proposals Tuesday. Senate Education Chairman Anthony Stamm, R-Kalamazoo, also signed the bills.

Gray said the tax measure to finance the secondary level program would bring in an estimated $50 million annually.

The bills, he said, were needed "more than anything else" during the current education-oriented legislative session. He expressed hopes they would be passed before Christmas.

"At this moment, we have frighteningly little to be proud of in our occupational education offerings in our schools," he said. "It is an insult to our integrity, it is degrading to the students who attend our schools. People have developed an attitude of academic snobbery that says 'college or failure.'" Gray continued. "Really we're failing the majority of students by not providing occupational training."

One bill would set up a bureau of occupational training within the State Education Department.

It provides for the state to be divided into 10 occupational training regions, each with a nine-member board named on a "one-student, one-vote" concept by local boards.

Regional boards would name their own directors, who in turn would serve on a 21-member state advisory council on occupational training. That council also would include 11 persons named by the state board of education.

COLONIAL LORE
FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP)—Kentucky is one of four commonwealths in the United States. The other three—Virginia, Massachusetts and Pennsylvania—all were former British colonies.

Reservations Available For Ruppe Dinner

Reservations are still available for the special Christmas party for Congressman Phil Ruppe (R-Houghton) on Sunday. The party will be held at the Fireside Inn from 5-10 p. m. and will include a buffet, punch and live entertainment.

Area "Friends of Ruppe" are sponsoring the affair—one of several similar events being held this week throughout the 11th District—to show appreciation for Ruppe's efforts on behalf of this district and to help reimburse him for out-of-pocket expenses incurred in representation of the district.

The "Friends of Ruppe" stress that there is absolutely no connection between this event and other fund-raising activities being conducted by local Republicans or the State Central Republican committee and that the party is not a political function.

Area residents who have not yet confirmed their reservations at Sunday's party may do so by calling Mrs. Lois Ott, 341-2175.

Trio Inducted Into Military

Three young men left Tuesday morning for induction into the armed forces and two left for pre-induction physicals, according to Mrs. Ann Jorgenson, Selective Service clerk.

Inductees leaving at 10:45 a. m. included Patrick Weber, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Weber, 615 Range St.; Clifford Cool, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Cool Sr., 500 Gero Ave.; and Leonard Walters, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Walters, 138 N. Cedar St. Each were presented a gift and best wishes on behalf of local veterans' groups by Clifford Lambert.

Leaving for pre-induction were Gregory Lambert, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Lambert, 124 S. Third St., and Donald Chartier, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Chartier, 118 Chippewa Ave. John Hanlon of Germfask, a transfer from Massachusetts, completed the group. A transfer out was former resident Steven Fish, now registered with the Longview, Texas office.

Mrs. Jorgenson said Tuesday's call was the last one under the old system of age-sequence. The November and December calls were canceled nation-wide and the inductees leaving Tuesday were the remaining three of the five originally called for October.

Tax Reform Next Stop For Senate

WASHINGTON (AP)—After settling on a 23 per cent oil depletion allowance, the Senate today tackled the most controversial issue in the massive tax reform bill—a proposal to boost the $600 personal income tax exemption.

Sen. Albert Gore, D-Tenn., had the support of Democratic leaders for his pending amendment to raise the exemption to $1,000 in four successive annual steps starting next year. But President Nixon is strongly opposed to the increase and there have been indications he might veto the increase.

The administration spent a busy day Monday working to scuttle the amendments. Edwin S. Cohen, assistant secretary of the Treasury, issued a warning that Gore's amendment would cause a big additional net revenue loss to the government which "could not be countenanced."

Hospital

Admitted to Schoolcraft Memorial Hospital Monday were Robert Hartley, Hildreth Binder and Jack Badgero.

Discharged were Doris DesRochers, Dona Guertin, Audrey Brady, Robert Swisher, Martha Leppke and Elizabeth Venturato.

Santa To Take Part In Parade On Friday Night

Santa Claus, Mrs. Claus and some of their "Elves" have confirmed their arrival in Manistique on Friday to take part in the walking parade scheduled to begin at 6 p. m. The parade will form at the Lincoln School and march to the Senior Citizens Service Center, opposite the post office.

Santa and Mrs. Claus and their Elves will return to Manistique Saturday when their headquarters will be the Lincoln School Gym. They plan to visit with area children between 10 a. m. and 12 noon and again from 1-3 in the afternoon. Before returning to the North Pole, they'll visit the Manistique Manor, the Schoolcraft Memorial Hospital and the Medical Care Facility to extend greetings.

Knitting Club Elects Officers

Officers were elected when the Happy 4-H Knitting Club was organized on Nov. 24. Mary Brandstrom was chosen president; Brenda Nygard, secretary; and Mary Beth Creeden, treasurer. Mrs. Howard Handorf is leader of the group.

Dues of 10 cents will be collected at each meeting. Anyone interested in joining the club may contact the officers, leader, or Peggy Hawn.

Briefly Told

Ticketed by Michigan State Police on Monday were Joel Dougherty, Davison, no registration proof; Thomas Austin, Southfield, speeding; and John Eder, Antigo, Wis., expired registration plates.

The hot lunch menu for Thursday at Doyle, Hiawatha, Fairview and Central schools will include baked chicken, whipped potatoes, cranberry sauce, fruit and beverage.

Santa and the DUMBBELL

By Lucrece Beale

Synopsis: Poor Booby Bobby. His schoolmates call him Duncie. Even his parents think he is addled. He decides he needs a friend and he goes to town to buy one.

CHAPTER TWO SEARCH FOR A FRIEND STORE

EARLY the next morning Booby Bobby went out to buy a friend.

It would cost a lot he knew and he hoped he had enough to pay for it. He got $1.17 from the toe of an old tennis shoe. He had been saving to buy Christmas presents but he thought if he bought a friend it would be a present for everyone.

The downtown streets were strung with holly and wreaths and tinsel streamers. The store windows were packed with Christmas goodies.

Booby Bobby went into a department store that sold everything from dishpans to fur hats.

"I want to buy a friend," he said to the lady in the Information Booth.

"A what?"

"A friend."

The Information Lady glared at him. "Are you some kind of a nut?"

"I can pay!" said Booby Bobby holding out his fistful of money.

"I don't have time for foolery," snapped the Information Lady crossly. "Go home to your mother where you belong."

A group of shoppers swept Booby Bobby with them into the street.

"Please, sir," said Booby Bobby to the doorman. "Can you tell me where there is a Friend Store?"

"You pulling my leg?" snorted the doorman. "Whoever heard of such a store?"

"There are Pet Stores," said Booby Bobby. "Baby Stores. Men's Stores. There must be a Friend Store."

"Look, Woodenhead," snapped the doorman. "You better just go in a Toy Store and buy yourself a rattle or something."

Booby Bobby went to a shoe shine stand and sat down. He was getting a little discouraged.

A shoe shine boy, only a little bigger than he, kicked him on the shin. "What're you doing sitting at my stand, Lunk-head?"

Booby Bobby explained that he was resting because he had come to town to buy a friend but could not find a Friend Store.

The shoe shine boy's eyes popped. "You off your rocker?"

Booby Bobby shook his head. "See! I have money and everything!"

"How much money do you have?" asked the shoe shine boy with interest.

"One dollar and 17 cents," Booby Bobby held out his fist.

"Listen," said the shoe shine boy. "You give me the money and I'll be your friend. Like you buy me, see?"

Booby Bobby was delighted. He gave the boy his money. "Now you come home with me," he said. "And no one will call me names again because people don't do that to people who have friends."

"Yeah," said the shoe shine boy. "Well, now you wait a minute and I'll be right back."

He took his equipment and Booby Bobby stood there and waited. The morning passed and the afternoon. Then it was night and his friend never came back.

The old man who ran the stand said, "You better go home now."

"I'm waiting for my friend," said Booby Bobby.

"Listen, boy. I heard the whole thing this morning. You will never see 'friend' or money again. You are a simpleton!"

"But, how will I get a friend?" asked Booby Bobby.

"Write to Santa Claus," jeered the old man. "Maybe he'll bring you one for Christmas!" Laughing at his own joke he shut up his shop and went off home to dinner.

Determination, Help, Enables Girl To Walk

LIVONIA (AP)—With a lot of help from some friends, 11-year-old Dorothy Messum, is learning to walk.

Dorothy was crippled by polio while an infant in Punta Gorda, British Honduras, where she was born. When she got older, she was sent to a special school for crippled children run by Sister Mary Serapia in the capital city of Belize.

Sister Mary contacted the Michigan Partners of the Alliance with British Honduras, a state-sponsored organization designed to promote international goodwill. One member of the alliance, Dr. Alfred Swanson of Grand Rapids, arranged for Dorothy to have corrective surgery on her legs in Belize.

But after the surgery was successfully complete, Dorothy still needed leg braces and extensive physical therapy which was not available in Belize.

A determined Sister Mary introduced the girl to Mr. and Mrs. James Szczesniak, a couple from the Detroit suburb of Livonia who were vacationing in the Central American country. After Sister Mary explained the problem, the Szczesniaks invited Dorothy to stay with them while undergoing therapy at Detroit's Mount Carmel Mercy Hospital.

When she first arrived in Detroit, Dorothy had to be carried. Now, with the help of crutches and braces, she is walking. She'll return to Sister Mary's school in Belize Dec. 13.

U.P. Lions Promote Holiday Gift Project

The 12th annual Upper Peninsula Lions Club project of Christmas Gifts for Newberry State Hospital patients is under way and at a recent meeting of the Board of Directors of the Bark River Lions Club they decided to participate.

Leo Knauf, president of the Bark River Lions Club urges area residents to support this most worthwhile endeavor. He has designated the post office and Adams Grocery as collection depots.

"Many of the almost 1,300 hospitalized at Newberry State Hospital have been forgotten by families and friends," Knauf said, "and we are seeking gifts to help assure these patients that society has not forgotten them."

Knauf suggests that while you are doing your Christmas shopping, select an extra gift or two to help make this project a success. Among the most frequently requested gifts are new clothing of all descriptions, cosmetics, cigarettes and other smoking supplies, toiletries, small transistor radios, hose, slipper socks, stationery, instant coffee, candy, hobby-craft sets, and paint by number sets.

Gifts need not be wrapped and it is hoped that all contributions will be in by Dec. 16 at which time the gifts will be transported to the hospital.

Bark River Lions Promote Leader Dog Week

Nov. 30 through Dec. 6 has been proclaimed Leader Dog Week by Governor William Milliken. During that week attention is called to the important rehabilitation program being conducted at the Rochester, Mich. Leader Dog School.

The non-profit school, Leader Dogs for the Blind, was founded in 1939 by Lions of Michigan—and has since trained nearly 2,900 Leader Dog "teams" (Leader Dog and blind person).

Leader dogs are furnished, without charge, to all eligible applicants. Last month the dog given by the Eugene Hansons of Bark River became the leader dog for Miss Bente Traads of Denmark. This was done through the Bark River Lions program.

In addition to furnishing operating funds, Lions are always on the look-out for good, friendly German Shepherds, Malamutes, Huskies, Labrador and Golden Retrievers — between the ages of one and two—for the Leader Dog Training program. All dogs are contributed; none are purchased.

Anyone having a dog which they think may qualify should contact any Lion member. Also, anyone knowing of a blind person interested in obtaining a Leader Dog, see a member of the local Lions Club. Unfortunately there are still many eligible blind people who do not know the Lions are anxious to help them and the Leader Dog School still needs dogs.

Milliken Wants To Swat Litterbug Good

LANSING (AP)—Delegates to a conference on waste have been told that the litterbug is a threat to even the most effective disposal programs.

In remarks at the governor's conference on solid waste management, Michigan Gov. William Milliken said Tuesday "it's entirely possible that we could develop effective programs for the disposal of waste by local governments and industry, only to lose the war to the guerillas—the private citizen who belongs to that unorganized army of litterbugs."

Milliken said tough laws are needed for the litterbug, "the private desecrator who kicks beauty in the face while no one is looking." He referred to such tactics as "a host of empty beer cans dropped from a car at night, a pile of trash secretly removed from the garbage and dumped at some beautiful roadside."

The governor said "we must make it as unpopular to abuse our environment as it is to abuse animals."

"How this civilization manages its waste," Milliken said, "or whether it manages it at all, is going to affect the life style of many generations to come. We have the choice now of cleaning up the messes we have created or sitting by idly while they engulf us."

Another speaker said that while government involvement in waste disposal problems is necessary, the ultimate solution lies in the hands of private industry.

Harry Kletter, president of Industrial Services of America, Inc., said the few companies in the solid waste disposal area "already have proven their capacity to turn mountains of trash into molehills through compaction, recycling and landfill operation."

He described recycling as processing solid waste to retrieve certain materials and pulverizing unusable substances for landfill.

Kletter said there are good prospects for breakthroughs leading to the use of solid wastes as construction materials, but that meantime "nonincineration methods of disposal such as landfills remain the best means of combatting land pollution and disposing of solid waste."

Joseph A. Parisi Jr., executive director of the Michigan Townships Association, said the financing of sanitary landfills is "killing us."

He said townships should join with each other in operating common landfills if they cannot afford their own.

Townships, he said, are frozen with a 15-mill limitation and cannot afford individual landfills unless the money is in the general fund.

Delegates to the conference heard numerous speakers representing the state, private industry, public agencies and universities.

Bay Mills Indians Ask Land Payments

James R. Fitzharris, Escanaba attorney, reports the U.S. Indian Claims Commission has recognized the Soo Chippewa Indians as descendants of those who ceded the area where Sault Ste. Marie now stands and fishing rights in the St. Marys River.

The Indians, who now live in the Bay Mills Indian Community near Sault Ste. Marie, plan to ask reparations on grounds their ancestors were underpaid for their property and fishing rights.

Under an 1820 treaty the Indians ceded their rights to 16 square miles, where Sault Ste. Marie now stands, and under an 1856 treaty they ceded their rights to St. Marys fishing and 36.4 acres approximately where the Soo Locks now stand.

The Indians have rejected a $12,000 offer as added compensation for their fishing rights.

The next step in the litigation will be to determine by appraisal what the ceded acreage and fishing rights were worth by monetary standards of 1820 and 1856.

The two areas involved are roughly the area of Sault Ste. Marie as it existed as a village when the treaty with the Indians was approved by the U.S. Senate on March 2, 1821; and the 36.4 acres reserved within the approximately 10,240 acres as a place of encampment, which the Indians relinquished and for which they were not compensated.

Case Prepared In Tate Death

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Police prepared a grand jury case against at least seven persons today in the Sharon Tate slaying, linked by an attorney to a cult of hippies who knew their leader as "God" and "Satan."

A preliminary hearing was also scheduled in Independence, near Death Valley, for Charles Miles Manson, 34, described as head of the occult group. He is charged with possession of stolen property.

Testimony probably would be confined to a raid on a hippie commune last October in the Death Valley area, said Dist. Atty. Frank Fowles. Deputies arrested 23, then released all but 10. The latter were held on a variety of charges including auto theft. They included Manson.

Miss Tate, 26, blonde actress wife of Polish film director Roman Polanski, was shot and stabbed last Aug. 9 at her plush, rented Bel Air estate. Also murdered were three of her jet-set friends—Hollywood hair stylist Jay Sebring, coffee heiress Abigail Folger and Polish playboy Voltyk Frokowsky—and Steven Parent, 18, a friend of the estate's caretaker.

The following morning, Leno and Rosemary LaBianca, wealthy owners of a Hollywood market chain, were slain in what police described as an attempt to copy the Tate killings. Under arrest in different areas of the country in the Tate case are Linda Kasabian, 20, taken into custody in Concord N.H.; Charles D. Watson, 24, who surrendered in McKinney, Tex., and Patricia Krenwinkel, 21, apprehended in Mobile, Ala. Authorities were preparing extradition papers to have them returned to California.

Miss Kasabian waived her extradition rights and agreed to return to California. When a charge of being a fugitive from justice in California was read to her in court in Concord, she said, "I'm guilty."

Police said several members of a nomadic group of hippies, last camped near Death Valley and including Watson and Misses Krenwinkel and Kasabian, committed all seven killings. They declined comment on statements by an attorney linking this group of hippies with Manson's cult.

Selective Service Ordered By God?

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Selective Service System likes to say the first military draft was ordered by God.

No sinner had Moses led the Israelites out of bondage in Egypt, the Bible says, than Jehovah ordered him to:

"Take ye the sum of all the congregation of the children of Israel, after their families, by the house of their fathers, with the number of their names, every male by their polls, from 20 years old and upwards, all that are able to go forth to war in Israel, thou and Aaron shall number them by their armies."

Moses Registered By this means, Moses registered, classified and inducted a conscript army of 603,550 citizen soldiers.

Between God's draft and the U.S. induction system, which underwent major reform Monday night with the imposition of a lottery selection method, history is studded with examples of mandatory military service.

The Athenians, Spartans and Romans all required citizens to serve in their armies under rules that would make most Americans cringe.

Practice Maintained England maintained the practice from pre-conquest times on and Capt. John Smith brought the draft with him when the first permanent English colony was formed in Virginia in 1607 with each settler a soldier.

But as New World colonization spread, forms of required military service changed and the militia system replaced straight out draft.

State troops were the main units in George Washington's Revolutionary army, a situation that failed to please the future first president.

Washington Pushed Plan Shortly after he became chief executive Washington asked Congress for a "uniform and effective system for the militia of the United States."

Congress responded with an act in 1792 requiring service in militias, which remained, however, under state control as to length of service and training.

Other efforts to maintain a large national army under federal control failed in the face of strong objections against any permanent, standing military force and compulsory training. Most militia units were manned by volunteers and it was such forces that fought the War of 1812, the Mexican War and much of the early Civil War.

Lincoln Ordered Draft Bedeviled by short enlistments and badly trained militiamen, President Lincoln obtained a law in 1862 authorizing him to order states to meet their troop quotas by drafts.

When this didn't work, Lincoln had instituted in 1863 the first national draft act.

The traditional objection to mandatory military service rose anew, fueled by the law's major loophole—a provision allowing a draftee to obtain his own substitute or buy his way out with a $300 payment to the government.

Red Cross Lists Many Activities

By charter obligation, each Red Cross chapter must conduct a Service to Military Families program for servicemen, veterans, and their families, and this program as well as the other activities of blood bank, safety services, and aiding families in disaster, keep the Delta County Chapter busy, it is noted in the monthly report.

There were six active servicemen who were given aid but not counted as cases. Twenty seven active servicemen were aided in various ways—family counseling, request for emergency leave, extension of leave, birth announcements, health and welfare reports, reporting and communications. Also assisted were seven civilians and one active serviceman received financial assistance from the chapter.

A local family was assisted when their home burned.

There were 71 pints of blood used at St. Francis Hospital in November. Forty nine pints were replaced to other hospitals for Delta County patients for a total of 120 pints of blood used.

Plastic donor cards were mailed to the persons who donated blood for the first time at the last blood bank or to those who had changed their address. The next blood bank will be held Dec. 9, 10, and 11.

Manager's Job Hinges On Wife

WAKEFIELD — Is Michael Smolcich, light department superintendent, Wakefield's new city manager?

It all hinges on whether his wife, Darlene, was permitted to vote for him.

Mrs. Smolcich, member of the city council, cast her vote for her husband's appointment after a preceding vote — without her ballot — ended in a 2 to 2 deadlock. Mayor Eugene Maki said he considered the tie binding on the council but added that he would seek legal opinion whether Mrs. Smolcich could legally cast a ballot on the proposal.

Recover Bodies Of 33 In Home For Aged Fire

NOTRE-DAME-DU-LAC, Que. (AP) — Searchers digging through the charred ruins of a home for the aged here recovered 32 bodies by late Tuesday night.

Police said between 40 and 58 persons were killed. Sgt. Cyrille Charron, in charge of the provincial police detachment in this village 15 miles from the Maine border, said it was difficult to determine the exact number of victims because records were destroyed in the fire.

Between 71 and 78 persons had been reported in the three-story wooden building when fire roared through it early Tuesday.

Charron said documents from the social welfare office in nearby Cabano indicated there were between 68 and 72 aged patients in the old people's home. The home also had six staff members, including the owner, Charles Tardif, who escaped with his wife and two children.

Charron said 21 survivors had been accounted for at the local hospital, and the police had escaped 29 persons may have escaped.

Hunger, Poverty Get Top Billing On TV

By CYNTHIA LOWRY NEW YORK (AP) — Hunger, poverty and discrimination suffered by Indians in the United States were shown with force and impact on two television programs Tuesday night.

The National Educational Network presented an hour program built around the current White House conference on nutrition. It opened with some shocking film of Navajo children suffering from malnutrition, and moved on to families on an Indian reservation trying to feed families on inadequate funds and food supplements.

Less effective was a big discussion group that followed, with representatives of varying groups complaining about welfare handouts, the quality of free commodities, and often moving away from the central subject: hunger.

Sen. George S. McGovern, D-S.D., observed that "15 million people in this country don't have enough to eat . . . We've put a man on the moon but we haven't put people in a position where they can feed their families."

Later, on NBC's "First Tuesday," one long segment was a case history of a young Sioux, Thomas White Hawk, who last year was sentenced to life imprisonment for murder and rape to which he confessed.

Probing his background, NBC researchers found a boy raised in urban and rural "Indian ghettos" and orphaned at 11. He grew up to be a loner in boarding schools and his trouble came while he was a premedical student and star athlete in a Western college—one of a handful of Indians among thousands of students.

After his conviction, examinations showed he had long needed psychiatric help. The NBC report contrasted the handling of his case with that of a white man accused of killing an Indian. A jury found the man innocent in two hours.

Engelbert Humperdinck, the British singer who next month will have an ABC show of his own each week, gave viewers a preview of his style and attitude in his first TV special.

It was a relaxed, tuneful hour. The handsome star has a good, effortless voice, an easy manner and a nice feel for casual comedy. With his low key manner he should wear a little better than the more aggressive entertainers.

Larry Hagman sure was the marrying kind Tuesday night. First he was the astronaut bridegroom of the 2,000-year-old genie of NBC's "I Dream of Jeannie." Less than an hour later, he was going through two more marriage ceremonies setting up the hectic comedy of "Three's a Crowd," on ABC's "Movie of the Week."

Matrimony for Jeannie could change the whole focus of the series. There ought to be a lot of funny situations when a mere mortal is married to a sorceress—or has that already been done?

Parochiaid Is Target Of Suit

LANSING (AP)—Three Democratic senators have filed a court suit to try to keep the House of Representatives from accepting a bill passed by the Senate that included state aid to private schools.

Sen. Roger Craig, D-Dearborn, filed the suit in Ingham County Circuit Court Tuesday. He was joined in the suit by Sens. Basil Brown, D-Highland Park and Coleman Young, D-Detroit.

The suit was filed against House Clerk T. Thomas Thatcher. The suit asks Thatcher to show cause why a temporary injunction should not be issued restraining him from treating action of the Senate as properly passing the bill and from presenting it to the House of Representatives.

Judge Sam Street Hughes scheduled a show cause hearing on the suit for Friday.

"Most of the time the courts are very reluctant to deal with legislative matters," commented a spokesman for Atty. Gen. Frank Kelley. The spokesman refused to speculate on the outcome of the legal move.

The Senate passed the $1 billion-plus school aid bill, including $25 million for aid to private schools, on Nov. 13.

The Senate Tuesday postponed a planned reconsideration vote. Further delay also was viewed possible.

Should the reconsideration motion fail—or pass—and the bill be passed again, the measure then would go to the House for consideration.

Craig and his fellow Democrats attacked the bill on constitutional grounds.

They said the State Constitution provides that "the assent of two-thirds of the members . . . shall be required for the appropriation of public money or property for private purposes."

The Senate vote, they contended, failed to meet this provision because of the 22-15 passage—less than the two-thirds required.

"A private rather than a public purpose would be served by passage of the bill," it was argued in the suit.

Therefore, the suit contended, a two-thirds vote is required for passage of the school aid bill.

Senate President Pro Tem Thomas Schweigert, R-Petoskey, had ruled that a two-thirds vote would be necessary, but the Senate membership rejected his ruling by an 18-17 vote.

Coatta Fired At Wisconsin

MADISON, Wis. (AP) — Wisconsin Coach John Coatta, whose beleaguered football Badgers won only three games in his three years at the helm, was fired Tuesday night.

Athletic Director Elroy "Crazylegs" Hirsch said a search would begin immediately for a successor, preferably among established head coaches or top assistant coaches.

Hirsch sat grim-faced and red-eyed for the news conference announcement that he had recommended the contracts of Coatta and his assistants be allowed to expire.

Coatta, whose coaching never equaled his star quarterbacking performances of two decades ago at Wisconsin, bowed out with a dismal record of 3-26-1.

The 40-year-old coach admitted he was not caught completely off guard by the announcement, which ended weeks of rumors that he was on the way out.

"I wasn't totally surprised," Coatta said. "But you always have faint hopes until you find out. It's tough, but that's the way it is. It'll probably work out for the best."

It's too bad for us," he added. "I don't want to sound like sour grapes, but I feel the football program is much better off than when we started three years ago. The program has a solid foundation and things will look up for the Badgers. They were beginning to look up this season. There are some football players here now."

Coatta's contract expires next Tuesday. The one-year contracts of his assistants, with the exception of Les Richerson's run out June 30, 1970.

Richerson's five-year contract will expire a year later. Hirsch said Richerson may be assigned other faculty duties, depending on the wishes of Coatta's successor.

Hirsch, who replaced the late Ivan B. (Ivy) Williams as athletic director last February, said he had reached his decision to fire Coatta since the season finale against Minnesota Nov. 22.

"I always promised John I would make my decision after the season," Hirsch said. "I have kept my promise."

The athletic director, himself a former Badger star and later a standout end for the Los Angeles Rams, said he had received a lot of advice from Alumni — both for and against Coatta — but "none of these pressures entered into my decision."

Coatta, who was hired three years ago to revive the Badger football fortunes after Milt Bruhn had suffered through three straight losing seasons, coached the team to its worst back-to-back campaigns in history.

His 1967 Badgers were 0-9-1 and his 1968 team finished 0-10. When his team scored three triumphs this past season — over Iowa, Indiana and Illinois — the question was whether the victories had come early enough to save Coatta's job.

Coatta, who starred as a Badger quarterback in 1948-1950 and 1951, returned to Wisconsin as an assistant coach in 1965 to serve under Bruhn, who had fallen on lean years after taking the Badgers to two Rose Bowls.

Tigers Record Third Straight In League Play

POWERS—Winning has become quite a habit at Powers-Spalding High School as of late and Tuesday night's game against the Hermansville Redskins was no exception, as the Tigers came out on top end of an 80-50 score in the Skyline Conference contest.

In the only other Skyline Conference game played last night, Republic notched its third straight conference victory over Champion, 67-64, to remain tied with the Tigers for the league lead.

Powers-Spalding jumped out to an eight-point lead in the first quarter and added to their margin in every quarter thereafter in picking up the victory.

Dick Smith paced the Tigers in the scoring column with 34 points, giving him a total of 93 points in three games. The only Powers-Spalding player to hit double figures was Kim Riedy with 22 points.

John Dani led Hermansville with 20 points and Tim Faccio chipped in with 14.

The Tigers were really hot from the field, making 32 of 58 field goal tries for 55 per cent, while Hermansville was hitting at a 34 per cent clip on 19 of 55. The Tigers also held a big edge in the rebounding department, 39-18, with Riedy leading the way with 11.

Powers-Spalding is now idle until Dec. 12 when they play host to National Mine in a Skyline Conference game and Hermansville plays host to Pembine in a league test Friday night.

Temple Defeats Boston College

By The Associated Press

The Temple Owls have taken night up where they left off at the end of last season's college basketball campaign. They won a game most everyone expected them to lose.

Boston College was supposed to beat Temple in the final of the NIT post-season tourney last March, but it was the Owls who won 89-76. On Tuesday night the Owls, with only one starter back from their NIT championship team, upset 14th-ranked St. John's of New York 60-59.

Two free throws by Drew Nolan with 45 seconds left won for the Owls as they dedicated their new $9.2 million gymnasium, McGonigle Hall, at Broad Street and Montgomery Ave. in Philadelphia.

"The kids knew they had a challenge in St. John's and they did a good job," said Harry Litwack, veteran Temple coach, after Nolan's free throws erased a 59-58 St. John's lead gained on a three-point play by Ralph Abraham with 52 seconds on the clock.

Boston College again was upset, this time by Boston University 76-70. It was the first victory by the Terriers over the Eagles in 10 years and came on the sharpshooting of Jimmy Hayes.

He threw in 33 points.

Illinois, led by Greg Jackson's 26-points, bowled over Butler 83-67. Julius Eving, a sophomore, scored 27 points to lead Massachusetts over Providence 90-85, and Artis Gilmore, Jacksonville's 7-foot-2 junior, tallied 31 points to lead the Dolphins over Morehead State 117-63 and the championship of the Sunshine Tournament at Jacksonville.

Skip Young's conversion on a technical foul shot with two seconds left gave Florida State a 69-68 squeaker over Oregon State at Tallahassee. Oregon, also on a road trip, fell before Wichita State 97-84.

Southern Illinois defeated Texas, Arlington, 82-73. St. Louis overcame St. Cloud State 65-62. Army whipped Lehigh 74-61. Cincinnati humbled Macmurray 99-64 and Georgetown, D. C., shaded American U. 80-78.

In other games, Utah State downed Sacramento State 85-65, Washington trampled Idaho 105-58, U. of Pacific beat Hayward State 75-60, Baylor routed Texas Wesleyan 89-49 and Dartmouth, paced by Alex Winn's 29 points, whipped Worcester Tech 67-58.

A new coach, good size and five returning veterans make the outlook for a successful cage season look rather promising at Holy Name High School for the second year in a row.

Gordon LeDuc, the coach of last season's State Class D Champion Marquette Bishop Baraga team, has replaced John Butymowicz as the head coach of the Crusaders, after Butymowicz guided Holy Name to a 10-7 record last year. LeDuc formerly coached at Powers and Negaunee St. Paul before going to Bishop Baraga.

LeDuc will have some valuable experience returning from last year's team in seniors Dan Young, Bob McGinn, Don Cousineau and Steve Kleiman, and junior Joe Harvey. Young, McGinn and Harvey were all in the starting lineup at different times last year, while Cousineau and Kleiman were front line reserves.

Also listed on the Holy Name roster for this season are Tom Ness, Joe Joran, Bill Skradski, Charley Creten, Gary Kleiman, Dave Maskart and Chuck Guay, all of whom played on the junior varsity team last year.

The Crusaders won't be lacking for size during the 1969-70 campaign, as nine of the squad members go over the six-foot mark. Harvey is the tallest player on the squad at 6 feet 5 inches, while Guay and the two Kleimans are listed at 6 feet 3 inches; Joran and Creten at 6 feet 1 inch and Cousineau, Maskart and McGinn at 6 feet even.

LeDuc has listed Harvey, Young and Steve Kleiman as possible starters in the frontcourt and McGinn, Ness, Skradski and Cousineau as possible choices in the backcourt.

"Our success this year depends a great deal on how well the boys up from last year's junior varsity squad can adjust to varsity competition," said LeDuc. "We have good size, but we must develop some scoring punch. We have many boys of near-equal ability and the battles for starting spots have been spirited. This should give us a good, strong bench."

Young scored 96 points last season to rank fourth among scorers on the 1968-69 team and McGinn chipped in with 80. Young was also the third leading rebounder on last year's team with 119. Skradski and Ness were the top two scorers on the junior varsity during the 1968-69 season.

The Crusaders play in the Great Northern Conference along with Escanaba, Menominee, Iron Mountain, Kingsford and West Iron County. This season, Holy Name will play ten conference games and six non-conference tilts. They open their season this Friday night at home against the Manistique Emeralds and will play host to Gladstone on Tuesday night.

Assisting LeDuc this season will be John Berrigan, junior varsity, and Walt Veldman, freshmen.

Baseball Talks Shift To Miami

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Baseball's winter meetings, which failed to produce a major player transaction during three days of preliminary sparring at nearby Fort Lauderdale, shifted to Miami, where trade talk likely will share the spotlight with discussion of possible structural changes in the administration of the game.

While the traders sought to close deals left hanging Tuesday at Fort Lauderdale, club owners began tackling the problems of 1970 schedules, player relations and a reorganization proposal that could result in future concentration of power in the office of Commissioner Bowie Kuhn and, ultimately, in realignment and inter-league play.

The owners were to kick off their talks today with an informal joint session. Saturday, they will consider recommendations of a restructuring committee they set up after taking the commissioner's job from Gen. William D. Eckert in the bombshell windup of last year's meetings.

Kuhn, named commissioner on a pro-tem basis two months later, subsequently was given a seven-year contract to remain in the top job. He favors bringing the American and National Leagues under one roof—literally and logistically—in an effort to modernize the administration process.

But there has been much disagreement among the owners on how far to go toward centralization of power.

General Manager Charles "Chub" Feeney of the San Francisco Giants, a member of the restructuring committee and the top candidate to succeed retiring National League President Warren Giles, is among those who would preserve the autonomy of the leagues.

Outside the meeting rooms, several inter-league trades appeared imminent following three days of relative inactivity. The world champion New York Mets, in the market for an established third baseman, reportedly were close to dealing for Kansas City's Joe Foy.

In Tuesday's only trade at the major league level, the Montreal Expos dealt southpaw pitcher Larry Jaster to Atlanta for right-hander Jim Britton and catcher-outfielder Don Johnson, a Braves' farmhand last season.

The Expos also announced the hiring of Dick Williams, ex-manager of the Boston Red Sox, as their third base coach. Williams, fired by the Red Sox in the final month of the 1969 season, fills a vacancy on Manager Gene Mauch's staff created when Dave Bristol took the Seattle managing job last month.

Cal Ermer, former skipper of the Minnesota Twins, also landed a coaching job, as pitching tutor for Bristol's Seattle club.

Warriors Dump Pistons With 3rd Period Burst

By The Associated Press

The San Francisco Warriors seek their second straight victory over Detroit tonight, and Warriors' coach George Lee is hoping for a third quarter to match the one against the Pistons Tuesday night.

After the first half ended at 49-all, the Warriors exploded for 45 points in the third quarter and coasted to a 116-109 National Basketball Association victory over Detroit.

A tremendous performance by Nate Thurmond enabled the Warriors, now 12-11 in the NBA Western Division race, to win their sixth game in the last eight starts.

Thurmond played all 48 minutes and scored 36 points. He also pulled down 23 rebounds and blocked six shots.

Jeff Mullins scored 25 and Fritz Williams 23 to aid Thurmond.

Jimmy Walker paced Detroit, now 8-14, with 29 and teammate Howard Komives scored 19.

The New York Knicks and Baltimore Bullets, running 1-2 in the Eastern Division race seem to be doing the same routine once they step out on the basketball court ... only the Bullets started about two weeks too late.

Tuesday night the National Basketball Association Knicks and Bullets kept in step by crushing opponents with overwhelming blitzes. Again Baltimore was a little bit slower, waiting until the last seven minutes, before blowing the Cincinnati Royals off the court, 129-107. The Knicks however did it in the entire third period en route to their 129-109 pasting of the Seattle SuperSonics.

In other games Milwaukee stopped Philadelphia 122-114 and Phoenix downed Chicago 121-110.

Baltimore, with 13 victories in 15 games—17-7 over-all—remains six games behind the high-flying Knicks, 24-2, who just had their record NBA winning string of 18 snapped Saturday by Detroit and have embarked on another.

The Bullets, who got a career-high 30 points and 21 rebounds from Wes Unseld, led by only five points 108-103 with about seven minutes to go Tuesday. Then the Bullets' Ray Scott hit three straight baskets and when the onslaught was over the Baltimore lead was 19 points with 1:15 left to play. Oscar Robertson had 32 points for the Royals.

The Knicks, with Walt Frazier pumping in 30 points, bombed the SuperSonics out of Madison Square Garden with a 45-17 third-quarter spree, after leading by only 57-54 at the half.

Willis Reed added 19 points to the New York total while Bob Rule topped the Sonics with 25. Rookie Bob Dandridge scored 26 points, including the bucket that sparked a 15-point spurt in leading the Milwaukee charge.

The 76ers had gotten to within 92-89 with nine minutes to play when Dandridge took over. Milwaukee upped its margin to 107-89 in the next 10 minutes and it was all over for Philadelphia.

Lew Alcindor and Jon McGlocklin had 24 points for the Bucks while Billy Cunningham hit for 30 and Darrel Iruhoff had a career-high 28 for the 76ers.

Dick Van Arsdale triggered Phoenix past Chicago with a 38-point barrage as the Suns staged off a fourth-quarter outburst by the Bulls. Bob Love topped Chicago with 34 points.

Sports In Brief

Jerry Koonsman of the New York Mets is the only pitcher to win two World Series games against the Baltimore Orioles. He won 2-1 and 5-3, pitching 17 and two-thirds innings.

Rockets, Bark River Showing Early Power

The Central League race could turn out to be a real dog-eat-dog affair before the season is over and the Bark River Harris Broncos and Rapid River Rockets expect to be right in the thick of things when the race is over.

Last night, the Broncos scored their second straight victory of the season by nipping the Trenary Comets 66-64 at Bark River and Rapid River notched its third straight triumph with an 80-33 romp over the Rock Little Giants.

In the only other game involving a league team last night, the Big Bay de Noc Black Bears opened their season with a 73-56 victory over Brimley.

After Bark River opened up with a four-point lead in the first quarter, Trenary came back to tie the score at 33-33 at halftime. The Comets jumped out to a 43-33 margin early in the third quarter, but the Broncos came right back to cut the margin to just two points by the end of the quarter.

The fourth quarter started out to be a scoring battle between Loren Vesser of Bark River and Dave Marlin of Trenary, but the Broncos managed to grasp a four-point lead with just a minute left to play. After Trenary cut the margin to two points the Broncos held on to the ball and came up with the victory.

The Broncos got balanced scoring from Vesser and Randy Leese, each of whom tossed in 14 points, and Alex Jorasz, who had 13 points. The Broncos attempted 73 shots from the field and made 29 for 41 per cent.

Trenary's Marlin topped all scorers in the game with 20 points and Don Sandstrom and Herb Harris chipped in with 13 and 12 points respectively. Trenary hit on 23 of 78 field goal attempts for 30 per cent.

Rapid River took advantage of Rock's poor shooting from the field to build up a 21-point lead by halftime and outscored the Little Giants 43 to 17 in the final two periods.

Kenneth Dean, the Rock coach, echoed the praises of the Rapid River team by saying, "Rapid River is really tough. They run good and have a strong bench."

Rapid River players hitting double figures in the game were Sam Johnson with 14 points, Dale Morin 12 and Dale Pasi 11. Tom Linjala was the only Rock player in double figures with 14 points.

Big Bay opened its season in strong fashion, holding the high scoring Brimley team to just 56 points. In their last outing Brimley scored 103 points against Soo Loretto.

Plagued by first game jitters and many turnovers, Big Bay fell behind 20-12 at the end of the first quarter, but really turned on the coals in the second and third periods to build up a big lead.

John Lewandowski and Dave Hardwick paced the Big Bay attack with 18 points apiece, while Kim Hartman chipped in with 14 points and Herb Pomeroy added 11.

Big Bay only shot 33 per cent from the field, making 26 of 78 attempts, but they held a big edge in rebounding, where Lewandowski led the way with 20.

In preliminary games, Bark River nipped Trenary 36-34, Rapid River edged Rock 43-42 and Big Bay upended Brimley 47-43.

Marquette Bombs Northern Cagers

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (AP) — Eighth-ranked Marquette used an air-tight defense to crush Northern Michigan, 98-60, in the opening college basketball game for both teams Tuesday night.

Starting slowly, the Marquette Warriors were behind, 15-14, when they put the defensive clamps on the Wildcats. By the half, Marquette led, 39-24, then spurred to a 61-30 advantage before clearing the bench.

Ric Cobb led the Warrior scoring with 18 points, while Dean Meminger added 17 and Joe Thomas 16.

High for Northern Michigan was Ted Rose with 15 points.

Cobb also led both teams with 12 rebounds as Marquette carved out a huge margin in that department, also, 63-52.

Pro Puck League Adds Two Teams

NEW YORK (AP) — Vancouver, B.C., and Buffalo, N.Y., in 1970-71. That was the verdict of the National Hockey League Expansion Committee Tuesday ... and for 1973-74 maybe even Moscow.

"It could be the Moscow Dynamos versus the Montreal Canadiens for the Stanley Cup in either 1973-74 or 1974-75," Clarence Campbell president of the NHL said today after the league had conditionally accepted Vancouver and Buffalo into the fold for next season.

Each franchise cost $6 million, three times the amount paid by the six West Division expansion teams that entered the league in 1967-68 when the NHL doubled its size to 12 entries.

Now with 14 teams, the NHL had to shuffle its divisional set-up with Chicago of the East Division moving to the West while Buffalo and Vancouver set up shop in the East.

Others in the East are Montreal, Toronto, Boston, Detroit and New York. The West line-up has Chicago, Oakland, Minnesota, Pittsburgh, Philadelphia, Los Angeles and St. Louis.

The Vancouver franchise was awarded to the Medicor Corp. of Minnesota, a Minneapolis-based firm while the Buffalo group—the Niagara Frontier Hockey Corp.—is headed by bankers Seymour H. Knox and his brother, Northrup.

Buffalo's entry is "contingent on the formal approval by Buffalo city authorities to increase by the 1970-71 season the seating capacity of War Memorial Auditorium to not less than 15,000 seats," a statement from the NHL read.

In addition there will have to be an execution of a lease satisfactory to the NHL between the city of Buffalo and the hockey club.

The NHL board of governors said that Vancouver would have to acquire the Northwest Sports Enterprises, which owns the Vancouver Canucks of the Western League and Rochester of the American League. And final execution of a satisfactory lease with the Pacific Coliseum, the arena which is owned by the Pacific National Exhibition Co.

Campbell said four more teams will be added in 1973-74, two for each division—plus the possibility of a European division. However the Europeans would not compete during the regular season with the NHL but would meet for the world championship at the close of the season.

Mrs. Anderson Heads County's March Of Dimes

Mrs. Ralph Anderson has been named chairman of the Delta County Chapter of the National Foundation—March of Dimes, replacing Albert D. Paperic who held the post for two years.

Mrs. Anderson will supervise the activities of the local chapter which gives financial assistance to birth defect patients and post-polio patients in Delta County. She will also be active in next January's March of Dimes campaign which finances this service.

"The great majority of birth defects can be treated and completely corrected, if they are detected early and given the best care known to modern medicine. Medical care of this high quality is available at 100 March of Dimes - supported birth defects centers at leading medical institutions throughout the nation, including a center at the University Hospital in Ann Arbor," Mrs. Anderson said.

March of Dimes funds also support the Salk Institute for Biological Studies in San Diego, Calif., where scientists work to learn more about the basic process of life. Their research relates not only to birth defects but to all diseases.

Mrs. Anderson and her family have lived in Escanaba for seven years. Her husband is employed at Michigan Bell and they have four children. She is a member of Central Methodist Church, Women's Club and Highland Golf Club.

She has been active in the March of Dimes for many years, having served as city and county chairman of the Mothers' March and also city chairman for Marquette. Last year she was co-chairman for the Mothers' March in Escanaba.

Businessmen In Ontonagon Ask Protection

ONTONAGON—The village council in this Lake Superior community is considering a businessmen's petition for round the clock police protection.

William Rosemby said businessmen were concerned over a recent rash of burglaries and felt that breaking and entering cases would be reduced if 24 hour police service were provided.

Village President James Clark said the village already is spending $20,000 a year for police protection and that addition of a full time officer at night would cost about $7,000 more.

The practice of preserving food in air-tight canisters or cans was introduced early in the 19th century.

Public Schools Can Use Bible

WASHINGTON, D.C. — The public schools can use the Bible as long as it is for the purpose of general education and not for persuasion or indoctrination.

This point is stressed by Rolfe Lanier Hunt in an article, "Teaching about Religion in the Public Schools," which appears in the December issue of Today's Education, official publication of the National Education Association. Hunt, a public school administrator for many years, is former chief of editorial service, U.S. Office of Education, and former editor of The Phi Delta Kappan and The International Journal of Religious Education.

When the U.S. Supreme Court in 1963 outlawed devotional Bible reading in the public schools, Hunt explains, it took pains through a majority opinion to sanction Bible study as long as it is for the purpose of general education and not for persuasion or indoctrination.

Despite this clear authority, most school systems avoid Bible studies of any kind. This is true even though both Judaism and Christianity are historical religions of significance to school subjects such as history and literature.

The many religious creeds that children bring with them to school, says Hunt, can cause distractions and disputes or can spark opportunities for growth in knowledge and better understanding of others with whom the students will live and work.

He admits that it may be difficult for a teacher to present religious materials as intellectual facts without a hint of bias or prejudice, but maintains that the student is entitled to the full range of information appropriate to the subject matter and his level of maturity.

How public schools deal with religion, he says, is part of the never-finished business of a democracy.

Paper By Gossan To Be Presented At U.S. Meeting

An original research paper by Dr. Alfred Gossan of Escanaba has been accepted for presentation before the annual meeting of the American Academy of Optometry Dec. 16 in Philadelphia.

The Academy meetings are held for the purpose of disseminating new information in the eye care field and to keep optometrists abreast of the latest knowledge in visual research, visual training, developmental vision, pathology detection, drugs and drug actions and refraction through the continuing education courses.

Dr. Gossan will make his presentation with statistical charts and slide illustrations before the Fellows of the American Academy (FAAO) at the research section meetings and will ask for an anatomical research study of his findings regarding Inner Canthus Cilia.

"While eyelashes have long been known to cause various symptoms, including lacrimation, corneal irritation and/or abrasions, they have only recently been found growing increasingly into the lacrimal portion of the eyelids in and about the inner canthus," said Dr. Gossan. "More studies, including determination of gland growth following eyelash growth need to be made regarding this evolutionary development."

The caribou is the only deer native to North America in which both males and females carry antlers.
